SERVICE NOTES

My private chef service is about food, culture and a relaxed experience around the table. A few simple preparations before I arrive help me put all my attention into the cooking.

BEFORE I ARRIVE

Kitchen & fridge

A clean, organised kitchen with clear counter space makes everything easier. A considerable amount of fridge space is important so I can keep fresh ingredients properly chilled and organised.

I completely understand that you also have drinks that need to stay chilled, especially during a holiday. A portable polystyrene cooler box with ice is a simple solution, leaving the fridge available for the fresh ingredients. Afterwards, it can be recycled.

Please also check that the oven is working properly before the dinner.

Kitchen & tableware

Before checking in, I recommend asking the rental property to double-check that everything is clean, complete and ready to use, with enough plates, large serving dishes, cutlery, glasses and cooking equipment for everyone.

Some rental kitchens have equipment that has been unused for a while and may simply need a proper clean. A quick check makes everything more comfortable and hygienic for your whole stay.

A clear counter, empty bins and an empty dishwasher make my work much smoother. Keeping other food and ingredients away from my preparation area is especially helpful when dietary requirements are involved.

The kitchen is my office for the day. Give me a good space to create, and I'll take care of the rest.

MY CHEF SERVICE

My service includes menu planning, grocery shopping, preparation, cooking, serving the dishes and cleaning the kitchen and areas I use.

When I present the dishes, I'll share little stories about the ingredients, the cultures behind them and my Four Shores · One Table concept. Just enough to give you a little understanding of what you're tasting, with a touch of interaction and hopefully a laugh or two. I'll keep it light and natural, giving you plenty of space to enjoy your evening.

TABLE SERVICE

If you would like dedicated waiter service, this can be arranged directly by the guests as a separate service.

Many guests on holiday simply enjoy looking after the table themselves, clearing plates and sharing the evening together. My focus stays on the cooking, the preparation and bringing each dish to the table at its best. If I have a free moment away from the kitchen, I'm always happy to lend a hand.

DRINKS

Drinks are not included in the chef service. I'm happy to recommend wine pairings for the menu, as well as non-alcoholic options. Drinks can then be purchased separately.

OPTIONAL EXTRAS

FLOWERS FOR THE TABLE

A beautiful floral arrangement can add the final touch. I can arrange something simple and elegant according to the size of your table, usually €25-€65 depending on the arrangement.

As we say in my homeland, Jordan, "the eye eats before the mouth." I like the table to look as good as the food tastes.

BIRTHDAY CAKE

Happy to arrange one if you are celebrating. This is an additional cost and will be confirmed separately.

Flowers and birthday cakes are not included in the chef service price and are paid separately.

Being a chef is not simply a job for me. It is my ultimate passion, and somehow that passion led me to become a private chef and host.
